

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The Third Anniversary of the Women's March is Here

Women and allies around the world to march in support of ending violence against women.

Location | Date - This weekend women and allies everywhere are uniting in solidarity to march in the 2019 #WomensWave. The third anniversary march recognizes the initial Women's March held in 2017, where over 6 million people came together in support of women's rights and freedoms.

Together with their worldwide alliances Women's March Global has set the theme of the event to be ending violence against women. A shocking one in three women experiences some form of violence in her life including sexual assault, rape, acid attacks, child marriage, and female genital mutilation among many others. In light of this worldwide issue Women's March Global has issued a toolkit to provide the global community a perspective into the recent statistics and laws regarding the various types of violence faced by women.

"We are thrilled to welcome our supporters around the globe to march in solidarity on January 19th and 20th," stated Interim Executive Director Uma Mishra-Newbury. "Our global efforts are in the spirit of the H.E.R.S. framework which advocates for the health, economic security, representation and safety of women worldwide and we are excited to continue to share that message."

Marches are scheduled in cities around the world including Seattle, Dunedin, Sydney, Stockholm Rome, Kingston, Heidelberg and Lagos. A live stream of the marches will be available on the Women's March Global Facebook page.
